A new pedagogy for children

- The children can use the whole climbing hall during the lessons and during family climbing.
- During the courses, the space is entirely reserved for the children.
- Climbing at La Petite Ile requires learning 2 key elements for safety in the boulders: declimbing and falling on the mats.
- Climbing for children under 13 is family climbing: parent-child interaction in a stimulating sporting environment, understanding and learning the rules of safety in the presence of other adults and young climbers. It will therefore no longer be possible for children to climb on their own.

More information

The information in this document is valid from June to August 2020.

As a result of the development of the COVID period and the recommendations of the Government and the Climbing Federations, the conditions for access to the room may change. Any changes will be communicated on Facebook and on our website and newsletter.
